We party to forget.
We celebrate to remember.

What is the biggest strength/lesson/wisdom that you regularly draw on in your life that you feel you've gained from having been part of this family?

What is something you love about yourself that, no matter what changes in your life, you would want to maintain?

If we have the good fortune of being back here again a year from now, what would you most like to be celebrating?

We become what we celebrate.

“The seeds of change are planted in the questions that we ask.”

—David Cooperrider

The background of the slide is a photograph of a dense evergreen forest, likely in a mountainous region. The image is overlaid with a semi-transparent teal color. In the top right corner, there is a white curved line graphic.

What is a story you can share of a moment where you felt proud of creating unique value in higher education?

What is something you love about how we show up here at Ontario Tech University, and that, no matter what changes, you would want us to continue?

If we have the good fortune of being back here one year from today, what would you most like to be celebrating?
