December  Available for the month of December, 2025.	Seminar: Holiday Season Stress Management with Nathalie Lacombe Thanksgiving through to and past New Years is typically considered the 'festive season'. Not only are the holidays a difficult time to watch what you eat and stick to a consistent schedule of workouts, it is harder to be healthy in wintertime. Short, grey days, and colder weather are generally enough to drive even the most optimistic of us into a bit of a funk. Add to that the festive season shopping, cooking and social gatherings and you have the perfect mix for seasonal stress. This session explores some strategies that will help ensure that you maintain good health and foster physical and mental resilience all holiday season long.
January  Available for the month of January, 2026.	Seminar: Exercise in Colder Weather with Marie-Eve Ricard So, you don't like grinding out miles on the treadmill or power walking the malls, but you dread exercising during cold weather. Unfortunately, cold weather can discourage even the most motivated exercisers. And if you're not so motivated, it's all too easy to pack away your workout gear along with your warm-weather clothing. You don't have to let cold weather spell the end of your exercise routines. This seminar offers tips for exercising during cold weather, so you can stay fit, motivated and warm when the weather turns chilly.
February  Available for the month of February, 2026.	Seminar: Heart Disease: What You Need to Know and Do with Renée Purdy Heart disease is a killer ... but it doesn't have to be. Prevention starts with knowing your risk. Almost 80% of premature heart disease and stroke can be prevented through healthy behaviours. That means that habits like eating healthy, being active and living smoke-free, have a big impact on your health. But what do you do when you or someone else may be experiencing a heart attack or cardiac arrest? Do you know what to do? This seminar will take a look at the risk factors for heart disease, signs and symptoms that we all should be familiar with and what to do in a cardiac emergency.
