

Top 10 Open and Affordable Resources

Faculty of Business and Information Technology at Ontario Tech

INFR 1016U - Introductory Calculus

An @OT_FBIF instructor decided to open up this introductory calculus course, using OER from OpenStax, saving students almost $30,000!

MITOpenCourseWare

An introductory, open textbook in business that covers a variety of topics in business foundations.
(<https://openlibrary.ecampusontario.ca/catalogue/item/?id=9d2935f5-c088-4207-a25f-a813dce8e5ae>)

StatsCasts

StatsCasts are narrated screen video recordings of explanations of statistical concepts. They are targeted at a first year level, in a range of subjects such as: Engineering, Sciences, Health Sciences and Business.
(<https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PL2463637C753A9642>)

OER Commons

OER Commons is a public digital library of open educational resources. Explore, create and collaborate with educators around the world to improve curriculum.
(<https://www.oercommons.org/>)

Information at University of Michigan

Encourages students to challenge the status quo of the information professions. Its faculty and students work to develop an integrated understanding of human needs as they relate to information systems and social structures.
(<https://www.si.umich.edu/>)

TU Delft OpenCourseWare

TU Delft OpenCourseWare provides free and open educational resources of high quality university-level, organised as courses. You may download, revise, remix and redistribute the resources published at TU Delft OpenCourseWare, as long as you adhere to the Creative Commons Conditions. (<https://ocw.tudelft.nl/>)

TEDEd

Browse hundreds of TED-Ed animations - short, award-winning videos that will spark your curiosity of learners. Find thousands of video-based lessons organized by subject.
(<https://ed.ted.com/>)

MERLOT

The MERLOT system provides access to curated online learning and support materials and content creation tools, led by an international community of educators, learners and researchers.
(<https://www.merlot.org/merlot/>)

SOL*R

SOL*R is a repository service provided by BCcampus that allows access to FREE online learning resources. It facilitates sharing, discovery, reuse, and remixing of a growing collection of content created by BC post-secondary educators.
(<https://solr.bccampus.ca/wp/>)

The Learning Portal OER Toolkit

Provides information and tools to help teachers and library staff to understand, engage with, and sustain OER in their work and practice. (<https://tlp-lpa.ca/oer-toolkit>)