

Hi student,

This message is on behalf of Example Name, Master of Science in Computer Science Candidate. Please direct any inquiries to example.name@ontariotechu.net.

You're invited to participate in an optional research study titled, Midair Writing in Virtual Reality, where you will perform handwriting tasks in midair while using virtual reality. Participation is entirely voluntary and there is no obligation nor need to participate if you do not want to do so.

The purpose of this study is to collect data on how midair handwriting is performed and use that data to develop artificial intelligence methods to automatically correct midair handwriting. This is an in-person study consisting of one, 60-minute session; you'll receive $20 for your participation!
